Group Long Term Disability Insurance

Disability or Disabled is either:

- (1) For the Elimination Period and for the Normal Occupation Period, being unable due to sickness, bodily injury, or pregnancy to perform with reasonable continuity the Material Duties of your Normal Occupation; or
- (2) You are working, but due to sickness, bodily injury, or pregnancy being unable to earn 80% or more of your Increasing Monthly Wage Base; or
- (3) You are continuing to work in your Normal Occupation or any other occupation for which you are reasonably qualified, or you enter a program of Rehabilitation Service and you meet all of the following conditions:
 - (a) you provide proof certified by a Physician that you have contracted an Infectious and Contagious Disease or tested positive for such disease; and
 - (b) you are unable to earn more than 80% of your Increasing Monthly Wage Base; and
 - (c) you are able to perform the Material Duties of your Normal Occupation on a full-time basis, but you are unable to perform these duties due to:
 - (i) restrictions imposed by a Licensing Board, law, or regulation, as a result of contracting an Infectious and Contagious Disease; or
 - (ii) loss of license, as a result of contracting an Infectious and Contagious Disease; or
 - (iii) being administratively relieved of a portion of your duties due to risks posed by your Infectious and Contagious Disease to those individuals you come into contact with.

Infectious and Contagious Disease:

Infectious and Contagious Disease is an asymptomatic disease categorized as communicable by the U.S. Center for Disease Control and Prevention which is potentially life threatening to patients.

Normal Occupation:

Normal Occupation includes any employment, business, trade, or profession that involves Material Duties of the same general character as the type of occupation you are regularly performing for your Employer when Disability begins. In determining your Normal Occupation, The Standard is not limited to looking at the way you perform your job for your Employer, but may also look at the way this type of occupation is generally performed. If your Normal Occupation involves the rendering of professional services and you are required to have a professional or occupational license in order to work, your Normal Occupation is as broad as the scope of your license. You are not Disabled if you are able to perform one or more occupations within the scope of your license.

Group Long Term Disability Insurance

However, if you are a resident then:

During the Elimination Period and the Normal Occupation Period, The Standard will consider your Normal Occupation to be the one medical general or sub-specialty in which you are participating while enrolled as a resident with your Employer, for which there is a specialty or sub-specialty recognized by the American Board of Medical Specialties or the American Dental Association. If the sub-specialty in which residency you are participating is not recognized by the American Board of Medical Specialties or the American Dental Association, you will be considered to be participating in a general specialty residency.
